

GRAZIELLA PERSICO TRAVEL AWARD

for young PhD students

PURPOSE

To honour the contribution of Dr. Graziella Persico in supporting young generations of scientists, a Travel Award has been established to enable one PhD student per year to participate in an international conference

AWARD

The 2014 award will consist of up to 1000 euros to contribute registration, accommodation and travel costs for a scientific meeting

ELIGIBILITY

Applicants should be PhD students under 30 years of age, working in life science for more information please visit <http://www.igb.cnr.it/gplecture/>

APPLICATION PROCEDURE

Applicants must submit to segreteria@igb.cnr.it (please, specify "GP award" in the subject of the mail) a single pdf document with three sections:

1. An abstract describing their own research (max 200 words)
2. Indication of the meeting for which the funding is requested providing motivations and a detail of the costs
3. A brief curriculum vitae

Deadline is February 5th, 2014

Application will be evaluated and ranked by the committee of the Graziella Persico Lecture and results will be communicated to all applicants.

Candidates of the best three applications will participate to the final selection and the final recipient of the award will be chosen among them. The winner will be invited to give a short presentation (15 minutes) of her/his work before the lecture on the day of the Graziella Persico Lecture on March 3rd 2014.